

Opportunity: Intern - Climate Change & GHG Mitigation

About Carbon Check

Carbon Check (India) Private Limited is an internationally renowned certification body committed to excellence in the delivery of impartial and competent third-party assurance services covering validation, verification, and certification of climate change projects across the world with special focus on Africa and Latin America. CCIPL is accredited, certified, or recognized, as applicable, by the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC), Verified Carbon Standard (VCS), Gold Standard Foundation (GS), Social Carbon, Climate Community and Biodiversity (CCB), Global Carbon Council (GCC) and SD Vista for providing verification and validation services in each respective regime. Carbon Check is involved in validating project proposals or verifying whether implemented projects have achieved planned greenhouse gas emission reductions. It manages and conducts verification and validation audits of greenhouse gas emission reduction projects.

About Role: The position calls for young, dynamic, and motivated individuals to work in a contemporary, exciting, and challenging field of GHG reductions or removals through climate change mitigation projects.

Designation: Intern - Climate Change

Duration: 6 months (Paid internship with a possibility of future employment, based on performance and availability of vacancy)

Location: Noida, India (office based)

Responsibilities: Candidate will be responsible to carry out the following:

- Undertake literature review and policy research on climate change related practices.
- Provide support towards Validation and verification of climate change projects under CDM, VCS, GS, CCB and other international GHG mitigation schemes
- Preparation of audit plans.
- Provide Support towards onsite audit activities.
- Provide support on on-going validation/ verification activities and other climate change projects.

Experience/competencies:

- Credible knowledge and understanding of GHG emission reduction project development, implementation, and/or validation/verification,
- Credible knowledge about various GHG mitigation schemes viz., CDM / VERRA/ Gold Standard for Global Goals/ Plan Vivo etc.,
- Interest / Experience in GHG methodology or protocol development,
- Interest / Experience in GHG emissions inventory development,
- Interest / Experience in GHG management and reduction strategies,
- General awareness of environment and climate domain – key issues, events, and updates.
- Proficiency in quantitative and qualitative data analysis.
- Proficiency in Microsoft Excel, Word, and PowerPoint.
- Ability to communicate technical information effectively, both orally and in writing
- Strong interpersonal and communication skills, including client relations
- Good organizational and time management skills
- Team player with a high degree of self-motivation
- Attention to detail, and commitment to quality

Education: Post-graduate in the related field of Engineering, natural/environmental, physical or social sciences.

Remuneration: Remuneration shall be negotiated with the successful candidate.

How to apply: You may send your CV and a letter of motivation along with other details to hr@carboncheck.co.in